Determining whether to vet volunteers or staff should be based on a risk assessment by the responsible organisation, and what action to take in relation to information contained in a disclosure certificate is similarly the responsibility of that organisation. FSLT does not have a regulatory role with regard to groups/individuals letting Fife Sports and Leisure Trust facilities.
- 24.2 FSLT support safe and supportive environments for all its user groups, especially children and those working with them. Good practice guidelines, in terms of Protection of Vulnerable Groups (Scotland) Act 2007 (referred to as the PVG Scheme), are available, including a poster being displayed in the facility being let, and a letter for user groups to distribute to users and parents/carers of children attending the let, setting out the rights and responsibilities for groups providing services. The safety and protection of children and vulnerable adults is to be of the highest standard possible. For further information please contact a member of the FSLT Management Team at the Centre.
- 24.3 In order to ensure that the organisation/let that you represent has taken appropriate steps to maximise the safety of children you are required to complete and sign the Protection of Vulnerable Groups (Scotland) Act 2007 (referred to as the PVG Scheme) vetting letter (Appendix b) or in the case of any unaffiliated let the unaffiliated individual's declaration (Appendix c). Parents / Carers should be aware that Fife Council's facilities are managed by FSLT and are used by a range of organisations and groups. Many of these run activities for children and young people.

Through letting them facilities, FSLT does not endorse or regulate these groups or organisations. It is each parent's responsibility to decide on the suitability of the group or organisation when considering whether to let his or her child take part in the activities they run.

Concerns of any type about any group running activities in a FSLT-managed facility should be raised with the group organisers. In addition, however, it may be useful to make the FSLT manager responsible for the facility aware of the concerns.
